

Coming Fall 2019

In response to ongoing reader feedback, ADULT BIBLE STUDIES will introduce in Fall 2019 some changes we believe will enhance your personal and group Bible study:

- A newly developed comprehensive Bible study plan will offer more flexibility in terms of Scripture selection and topics.
- A brief article will introduce each unit of lessons, helping you set the lessons within their biblical and historical context and connect them to one another and to other lessons in the book.
- Lessons will more intentionally help you answer questions such as: How does this passage inform my faith? What difference does this text make in how I think about and relate to God and others?
- Lessons will observe and support the church seasons of Advent and Lent.
- Suggestions for developing personal spiritual practices—such as prayer, confession, worship, mindfulness, solitude, community, hospitality, neighbor-ing, service, and celebration—will help you further nurture your faith development.
- One student edition will have a font size that accommodates all readers.
- To encourage you to use the Bible translation with which you are most comfortable, the Scripture texts will no longer appear with the lessons.
- Books will increase from 96 pages to 104 pages.
